

Coalition America Introduces Questionable Provider File

Atlanta, GA, July 15, 2006...Coalition America, Inc. (CAI), the leader in medical claim savings, launched a new product, the Questionable Provider File (QPF). QPF is one of the most comprehensive databases of physicians and allied health professionals compiled from over 600 official sources of nationwide public records.

“According to Government Accountability Office studies, losses to fraud, waste and abuse are 10-20% of all benefit dollars paid,” says Wally Ward, vice president, sales and services for CAI. “QPF can be used to look up provider information during the credentialing process as well as identifying providers that may present a claim risk to the payor. A potential healthcare risk may also be indicated for their member receiving care from a certain provider. QPF will allow clients and their members to review key information about providers to guide them in both the adjudication and provider selection process.”
